Reminders

When decodable books are sent home to stay, please keep them in one location for your child to reread to increase their fluency and accuracy.

Spelling words for the week are sent home on Monday and should be practiced.

Learning Focus

Math

The students continue to work on breaking a sum into smaller addends. They have been playing- How Many am I Hiding? and Heads or Tails. By playing these games with their learning partner, students are gaining number sense and understanding the many ways that a number can be made. This week, students will learn another game called Counters in a Cup that aids in developing this understanding.
